Principal's Message

Dear Johnnies Community,

Last Friday was a great day for St. John's with the official Opening and Blessing of our new facilities: Hospitality, Staff and Administration areas.

I provide below some snippets from my address: Please excuse some abbreviations as they help when speaking and, if this is just part of it, aren't you glad you were not there.

"It is my great pleasure to address you today on this occasion of the Opening Blessing of the new and refurbished Sr Kostka Hospitality buildings. Included in the same project, were the upgrading of the Staff amenities and the construction of the new Administration area. The Hospitality Centre upgrade and new build were only possible with the generosity of State Govt Grant to the tune of $995,000.

The new facilities have been most appreciated by staff in this area, students, who now have state of the art facilities, and by the community who benefit from events held in the dining area and surrounds.

This latest project was preceded a year earlier by building a State-of-the-art St Joseph's ITD centre for all our woodwork, metalwork, graphics, and design activities. Without that build we would not have had the necessary space and ideal position for the new Administration area. – located where the old ITD centre was.

It has been an exciting five-to-seven-year period of building and providing excellent facilities and opportunities to the students of St. John's. Much of the hard work and planning was due to our business Manager, Kim Harrison. – She is currently on extended leave and cannot be here as she is still recovering from the 35km Bloody Long Walk raising funds for Mitochondria.

Once we had brainstormed what we needed and where it might go, Kim just went into overdrive with meetings with architects, council, builders, ADF and so on and managed the borrowings and repayments in conjunction with BCE and ADF. A huge thank you to Peter Middap Architect and 161 building, especially Kelvin and Darren, for their partnership in our buildings over the past seven years.

Our needs are still growing with our student numbers; from around 640 students in 2014 to 860 on campus today. Year 7 to secondary and finally attaining a five-stream status has accentuated the need to provide excellent facilities. Indeed, as the larger numbers are finally reaching the senior school, our estimate for 2022 will be around 880-890. And yes, Chris and Doug, we need to build again.

We are blessed with such a beautiful site here on the hill, which we have occupied since 1979, with 100 students and only a demountable. Many people doubted the success of St. John's in those early years, and I pay tribute to those early Principals, Kathleen Rundell, Wendy Cutting and Paul Blundell. Our rich history began in 1940 (and contrary to popular opinion, I was not born then, but was born some 17 years later) when the first Sub-senior year, as they called it then, commenced with 7 students, one of which was Pat Carroll, who after graduation went straight to Banyo seminary where he became a priest in 1948.

As time went on, the local community demanded a catholic secondary school that included boys and it was then that BCE under the directorship of Mr. Vince O'Rourke, established our college on this site, land donated by the Hearth family. We are forever indebted to Vince and his foresight. The Good Samaritan sisters handed over their governance to BCE but still had a great interest in the school and several sisters continued to teach here up to 1990.

Sr Patricia Thom was the last Good Sam sister to be Principal up to 1978.

Srs Eliz, Eugennie Maureen, Joan and Adele 79 - 90

I received a wonderful message this morning from Sr Eugennie '88 who could not be here today as the sisters and oblates gather in Brisbane for a weekend retreat:"

To Principal, Chris Gold, Staff, Students and Families of St John's College,

I send my personal good wishes and congratulations to all of you, as you gather for the Blessing and Opening of the Sr Kostka Building.

As a Good Samaritan Sister who taught at St John's College from 1983-1988, and who loved being a part of the College life and history, I am disappointed that I cannot be present for this event, but hold you in thought and prayer and ask God's good blessings, for the use of this building and the continued growth of its hospitality.

It is wonderful to see how the College has developed in "leaps and bounds" over these many past years and I pray that the spirit of Sr Kostka and all the Good Samaritans Sisters who have been associated with the College, will keep alive the charism of the Good Samaritan within all who minister and learn there.

With deepest gratitude and affection,

Sr Eugennie Levinson

"Our history is dynamic; we are reinventing ourselves and all the while keeping strong the traditions, values, and charism of the Sisters of the Good Samaritan.

I cannot wait to see the next project gather momentum: On our Priority list of to do's.

1 is to enclose the MPC with timber floor, stage, and theatre style seating at the top; we would also love to develop our beautiful oval with lights, a second oval where the cow is ajisted, parking and new dressing sheds/toilets.

If enclosing is not the best thing, we would also love to see a performing arts theatre that can be flexible with Drama and music classrooms, and of course we need more parking spaces. Take note Doug. Nothing is impossible despite the steep site.

In my 13 years here as principal, I learned quickly to Never underestimate the Johnnies spirit we will continue to achieve great things. Some doubted us in the early days, and it was a lot of pleading to finally go to five streams, today we stand before you as a college of 860 students and growing, and most of our recent buildings have been possible with borrowings and State Govt Funding.

A huge thank you to our parents, P&F, Board, staff for their many ideas and support for our growth and of course to BCE for encouraging our growth with support for building projects, property acquisition; to the ADF who work closely with the finance team to help manage borrowings and repayments, and to the State Government for showing continued interest in and financially support for schools in the Catholic sector."

And in the spirit of faith, hope and love, we continue our journey to Unbind and Set Free.

Celebrating a Strong Catholic Identity

Year 10 Event: PoTENTIAL

BCE have identified that our youth, especially the Year 10s, have an amazing opportunity to lead in our schools. They aim to help them develop confidence so that when they are in year 12, they already have the skills to put ideas into action and the motivation to inspire others. Unfortunately, due to COVID restrictions last year's event had to be cancelled so I am thrilled to see it returned this year.

This Thursday, St John's College will be taking sixteen students, down to Brisbane to participate in this amazing event. The students will experience numerous activities arranged by Brisbane Catholic Education, Catholic Mission, Caritas and Vinnies Youth. There also promises to be a Pop-Up Vinnies Store during lunch time and after the event, as caring for our environment is an important message from Pope Francis in his encyclical, Care for our Common Home (Laudato si). We are very fortunate to have as a guest speaker, Chris Tamwoy. You may remember Chris from Australia's Got Talent in 2016, he was the recipient of the 2015 NAIDOC Youth of the Year award. Chris has ties to Badu, Boigu and Darnley Islands in the Torres Strait and is a self-taught guitar virtuoso in the making. It promises to be a great day and an important part of our student's formation.

POSITIVE PARENTING SEMINAR

Save the date!
Wednesday 23rd June
5.00 – 6.00 pm

St John's is offering a free parent seminar for our parenting community. Our presenter is Glen Gerreyn, a dynamic speaker who has been working with our Year 11 and 12 students.

CONTEXT

As a father of four, Glen understands first-hand how parenting can indeed be one of the toughest jobs in the world. He also knows how rewarding it is to see one's children growing up feeling love, assured, and closely bonded with their parents.

SHIFT

In this one-hour seminar, Glen shares the five fundamental positive parenting tools, based on positive psychology research. You will leave feeling equipped with the skills to better connect with your children and to empower them to tackle a complex world. Our first responsibility as parents is to enjoy our kids. How you think about being a parent deeply shapes how your child will see the world. When you are enjoying your children you are teaching them that the fundamental engine of what makes a family thrive and flourish is joy, not angst, depression, despair, or destitution, but joy.

Topics Covered Include

- How to help your child find a vision
- The rules of encouragement
- How to be where you are
- Teaching your children how to fail
- How to say you're sorry
- Making the home a refuge

The Hopeful Institute delivers solutions for the whole school community through powerful seminars that shift individual thinking and inspire audiences to navigate the complexity and disruption of contemporary society. Each of our programs are research-based and geared around supporting your schools existing wellbeing programs and enriching the lives of people in your school community.

GLEN GERREYN
AUTHOR AND CO-COACH

Over the past twenty years Glen has shared his message of hope with over a million people around the world, engaging with schools, parents, leaders, groups and community leaders. Glen's work has been featured on national TV and radio, he's authored five books and co-edited the "Man of Honour" character development course.

Glen has a unique ability to capture the attention of thousands, while deeply affecting individuals. So much more than being able to inspire, he has the ability of being able to compel people to take action in their lives. Through his own experiences, Glen has the unique ability of encoding today's data into tomorrow's impact. ## Year 10 History

This term, our year 10 History class has been studying the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples struggles for rights and freedoms from harsh Australian government policies. History itself is the retelling of stories and experiences from many perspectives which are then evaluated and analysed to determine the ultimate truth of a historical event. Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people fought, protested, and campaigned for basic human rights for many decades, human rights which are taken for granted by many Australians. Our depth study focused on The Stolen Generations, an incredibly dark period in Australia's history. A period when First Nations children were taken from their families based on an assumption that their parents were not fit to care for them. The government at the time determined that a 'recessive gene' gave First Nations People a darker skin tone and it was decided that in three generations this gene could be 'bred out' entirely. When the children were taken away, they were placed into orphanages and some families forced children to work and children were assaulted. These children were also immersed in European education and religion, they were denied their culture and language; as a result, many traditions, ways of living and the stories of First Nations People were lost. A major effect of the Stolen Generation is intergenerational trauma, that is, trauma that is passed down from one generation to the next. This can be represented in present day by the feeling of disconnection from culture, kin, and country.

During our lesson, Mrs Tollner gave us primary sources of children in orphanages, teenagers in a school in Cherbourg, and in groups, we had to question what we saw, what we thought and what we wondered about the children in the photos and newspapers from the 1930s. We wondered why the government thought this was ok, how it was accepted by Australians and how the children were feeling. During National Reconciliation Week and particularly on National Sorry Day (26th May), we understand the importance of all Australians knowing the truth of what happened and of continuing to acknowledge and say sorry.

There were many Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander activists over the years who fought for the rights and freedoms of First Nations people, including Eddie Mabo, Oodgeroo Noonuccal, and Charles Perkins. Charles Perkins later wrote of the Freedom Rides stating, "What we gave Aboriginal people in the towns we visited was hope. We stirred their imagination, their desire for human rights."

These stories and major events happened because of the courage of many Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people. Our year 10 class now has a better understanding of the struggles and the fight for basic human rights the First Nations peoples endured, deepening our respect for the truth-telling of Australian history.

Youth Symphony

Last Wednesday 19th May two of our students, Sophie Pinna and Niamh Wall were lucky enough to be able to perform with members of the Queensland Symphony Orchestra as part of their involvement with the Sunshine Coast Youth Orchestra.

This was a wonderful opportunity for students across Sunshine Coast to immerse themselves in the Orchestra, watch the talent and skills of local professional musicians and listen to short excerpts of classical favourites.

National Reconciliation Week

Wednesday, the 26th of May, was National Sorry Day, which acknowledged the mistreatment of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people who were forcibly removed from their families and communities - which we now recognise as 'The Stolen Generations'. It is such an important day to remember the people who are the Stolen Generations, their descendants, communities and the healing that is still ongoing. National Reconciliation Week occurs from the 27th May until the 3rd of June with the 2021 theme “More than a word, reconciliation takes action.” Students were given the opportunity to pledge their action during our long PC activity on Monday with PC teachers mentioning the insightful and meaningful discussions being made.

“Acacia 2 – To our PC, Reconciliation means to accept people for who they are, respect culture, acknowledge the Stolen Generation and say sorry”.

“In Banksia 8, we believe that the education system needs improvement so everyone graduates knowing and understanding Australian History”.
